JOB TRAINING TO FIT YOUR NEEDS

While Mississippi ranks #1 in competitive cost for labor, quality is what brings industry to our state and to our county. Here in Washington County, your operation will reap the gains of the powerhouse partnership between the Washington County's Workforce Investment Network (WIN) Jobs Center and Mississippi Delta Community College (MDCC) Charles C. Capps Technology Center.

Whether you have a well vetted curriculum or need one located or developed, your specifications are the driving force behind the Capps Center training. When Mars Foods expanded its production lines with new, cutting-edge equipment in 2007 and 2011, MDCC and Capps made the difference. As Renea M. Weathington, Mars Foods North America human resources manager noted, MDCC and Capps training "has positively impacted machine/process downtime, improved production capabilities, quality, and reduced waste." Furthermore, in October 2014, Mars Foods announced its third expansion, a $31 million project which increased capacity and included a state-of-the-art Research and Development Application Center to support the company's global innovation efforts.

Washington County is a CERTIFIED ACT WorkReady Community. The County was the 2nd county in MS to become certified. The ACT NCRC Career Testing along with manufacturing training has helped Washington County lead workforce training in the state.
